The second workshop for agricultural producers was organized on 27.9.2024. by the project team of the Biotechnical Faculty, University of Montenegro. The second workshop for local community took place in the municipality of Tuzi, where a large number of agricultural producers are located.

The workshop took place as part of a series of activities related to work package five (WP5) task 5.5 Workshops for local community.

The full-day workshop was organized together with the Agricultural Cluster of Montenegro in order to gather as many farmers as possible from other municipalities.

The workshop was held in the building of the Municipality of Tuzi.

At the workshop, Dr. Milić Čurović first presented the activities carried out within the AGFORWEB project. Then, the participants were introduced to agroforestry practices that are most commonly used in the countries of the region.

Professor Čurović also presented the legal framework for agroforestry to the workshop participants. Promotional material was also distributed to producers. Also, the producers took part in the discussion and asked questions.

The report and information from the workshop was posted by the Agricultural Cluster on its Facebook profile (<https://www.facebook.com/poljoklastercg/>).
